

YEAR OF THE TIGER - RESOURCES

Year of the Tiger: Plain Language Summary

An important way to provide greater cognitive accessibility is to use “Plain Language” writing. Here is a plain language summary of Alice Wong’s Year of the Tiger by Kelsie Acton.

<https://disabilityvisibilityproject.com/wp-content/uploads/2022/09/Year-of-the-Tiger-Plain-Language-Remediated.pdf>

Year of the Tiger: Access Rider

An access rider is a document that anyone who identifies as disabled or neurodivergent might use to ensure that their needs are met when working with others. In addition to outlining her own access needs, Alice Wong’s access rider also lays out some excellent best practices for holding accessible online discussions.

https://disabilityvisibilityproject.com/wp-content/uploads/2022/09/2023-Access-Rider\_Alice-Wong\_090722-Remediated.pdf

Places to start

Alice Wong and several other organizers of the Disability & Intersectionality Summit (DIS) have created a resource document with 10 basic suggestions for where to start when it comes to accessibility.

<https://www.disabilityintersectionalitysummit.com/places-to-start/>

Alice Wong: I Still Have a Voice

Alice Wong can no longer speak. But via a text to speech app, she has created a powerful radio piece for KQED that affirms she still has a voice.

<https://www.kqed.org/perspectives/201601142614/alice-wong-i-still-have-a-voice>

Alice Wong: Inclusive Politics and the Disability Community

Remarks by Alice Wong (@SFdirewolf), a panelist at Netroots Nation, "Sparkle or Shade, Let's Get Real about Inclusive Politics" on July 11, 2019. Key takeaways from this talk have been collected into an impactful infographic on page 83 of Year of the Tiger

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EcVEROWAm6I>

DISABILITY VISIBILITY - RESOURCES

Disability Visibility Project

The Disability Visibility Project is an online community dedicated to creating, sharing, and amplifying disability media and culture. Disability Visibility Project® is a trademark of Alice Wong. All rights reserved. (c) Alice Wong 2016.

<https://disabilityvisibilityproject.com/>

Disability Visibility Podcast Resource Guide

This guide will point you to all 100 episodes of the Disability Visibility Podcast, a production of the Disability Visibility Project. Each entry contains links to episode audio, two types of text transcripts, brief episode info, and more links related to the guests or topics.

<https://disabilityvisibilityproject.com/wp-content/uploads/2021/04/Disability-Visibility-Podcast-Resource-Guide.pdf>

Disability Visibility Podcast Ep 89: Museums

Alice Wong's Disability Visibility Podcast is a treasure trove of stories about life from a disabled lens. In Episode 89, Alice speaks with curator Amanda Cachia about how curators can make accessibility part of their practice.

<https://disabilityvisibilityproject.com/2020/11/01/ep-89-museums/>

Guest blog post: Growing up Asian American with a Disability by Grace Tsao

Today's panelist Grace Tsao was featured in 2016 on the Disability Visibility Project website as a guest blogger. The following is re-published with permission by the author and TASH.org.

<https://disabilityvisibilityproject.com/2016/02/21/guest-blog-post-growing-up-asian-american-with-a-disability-by-grace-tsao/>